Academy of Architecture for Health

AIA Knowledge Community

ACADEMY JOURNAL 2022

Call for papers

Call for papers 2022

Online journal of the AIA Academy of Architecture for Health

Submission due date: May 27, 2022

You are invited to submit articles, innovative project case studies, completed research projects, and monographs in the field of healthcare design. In addition to the architectural profession, those involved in healthcare—doctors, nurses, educators, administrators, etc.—are encouraged to submit.

Articles should be timely; preview new trends; and address industry wide topics, issues of relevance, and emerging technology in the healthcare system. No book reviews, please.

The Academy of Architecture for Health is an interactive and multidisciplinary organization. Submissions selected for publication will reflect the diversity of its programs, the specialized commitments of its membership, and the quality of composition befitting a learned journal that is accessed and read worldwide.

aia.org/aah

Mission statement

As the official journal of the AIA Academy of Architecture for Health (AAH), this publication explores subjects of interest to AAH members and others involved in the fields of healthcare architecture, planning, design, and construction. The goal is to promote awareness, educational exchange, and advancement of the overall project-delivery process and building products.

Suggested topics

Comprehensive planning for healthcare

- Market analysis
- Strategic positioning
- Facility master planning
- Departmental planning
- COVID-19 planning
- Integration of Sustainability
- Public Health initiatives
- Staff Burnout
- Advanced Diagnostics

Basic architecture services for hospitals

- Improved design techniques
- Advancements in documentation
- Emerging technical features and products

Project management for healthcare

- Partnering
- Project delivery methods
- Budget and time management
- Legal and regulatory issues

Healthcare delivery trends and issues

- Mergers and consolidations
- Emerging medical trends and their affect on architecture
- Architecture services systemwide
- In-house versus contract services
- Needs-based assessments
- Right-sizing
- Data and RTLS
- Telehealth strategies

Service delivery issues and opportunities

- More with less
- Short stay, outpatient, bedless
- Departmental consolidations
- Specialty centers at all levels
- Family-focused care

The university teaching hospital

- Planning and design methods
- Affiliations and linkages
- Asset management
- Research and education
- Academic health science centers
- The teaching/research environment
- Bench-to-bed treatment

Submission criteria

To be considered for the 2022 edition of the Academy Journal, your final submission, including the enclosed application and the following documentation, must be received by AIA on or before May 27, 2022. Your submission must include:

1. A single-column, single-spaced, 200–250 word abstract.
2. A single-column, unformatted, single-spaced article, 1,000–4,000 words (Maximum) with embedded images:
   - Quality graphics encouraged, in color, if appropriate.
3. Both a PDF and word document copy
   - Please send via email to: isabellarosse@aia.org via WeTransfer or another file sharing service.
   - If you prefer to mail it, please do so via a flash drive or FTP.
4. One set of graphics (charts, diagrams, floor plans, photos) submitted separately either via email or flash drive at a high resolution size, 300 DPI, 5x7 inches preferably in CMYK color .EPS format if a drawing/line art and preferably in RGB color, .JPG format if a photograph.

   - No .PDF files, please.
   - Copy in article must indicate placement of graphics specifically by reference number.
   - Please limit the number of graphics to ten.

Please adhere to the following guidelines:

1. The title page should include:
   - Title of paper
   - Name/title of author(s), firm name(s), and full contact information, including e-mail address.
2. The Architect of Record must be credited if it is not the author(s).
3. Use 8 ½ x 11 inch PDF and word document. No company letterhead or logos in the main body.

4. Use 12-point standard font.
5. Use "block style" format (flush left) and one-line separations between paragraphs.
6. Use one inch margins on top, bottom, and sides of paper.
7. Type section headings flush left, in upper and lowercase. Do not use all caps.
8. Avoid marketing products and services.
9. Images must be imbedded in your document, as well as supplied as separate .EPS or .JPG files.
10. Submit all exhibits, photos, and diagrams as "finished" artwork.
11. All exhibits, photos, and diagrams must include captions and credits.
12. Submissions will be edited by AIA staff for style and grammar only.
13. When citing or referencing sources within the text, please use parenthetical citation. For example:
    - (Smith, 1997) one author
    - (Smith and Smith, 1997) two authors
    - (Smith et all., 1997) three or more authors

Copyright criteria

Copyrights for images:

Please complete and sign a "permission and release form for use of image or likeness" to give AIA permission to publish images in the Academy Journal. A specific document is included for your reference.

*Any person whose face is visible in photos must also complete the "image release" form separately. Please comply with HIPAA guidelines for patient confidentiality.

All laws regarding plagiarism and copyrights for both text and images are strictly enforced and must be obeyed.

Copyrights for print and digital transmission:

Papers are assumed to be original, unpublished documents and will be reviewed accordingly.

Please complete and sign an "author permission agreement" to give AIA permission to publish your work in the Academy Journal. A specific document is included for your reference.

By submitting your paper, you give the AIA the nonexclusive* perpetual right to reproduce the paper in any and all media at AIA's discretion. You warrant the paper does not violate any intellectual property rights of others and indemnifies AIA against any costs, loss, or expense arising out of a violation of this warranty.

*A "nonexclusive" right means you are not restricted from publishing your paper elsewhere after being published in the online and hardcopy versions of the Journal if you use the following attribution: "First published in the Academy Journal, the official journal of the AIA Academy of Architecture for Health."

To provide adequate background and intent for publication, please submit this form with a completed manuscript and finished graphics to:

Isabella Rosse at isabellarosse@aia.org via WeTransfer or another file sharing service. If you prefer to mail images via a flash drive, please do so to:

Academy Journal
Attn: Isabella Rosse
The American Institute of Architects
1735 New York Ave., NW
Washington, DC 20006
Email: isabellarosse@aia.org

Query

If you're not sure of an article or topic and would like some feedback, please use this Submission Form and provide information by email with your question and/or a short abstract. Any guidance provided is not a guarantee that the submitted, completed manuscript will be selected by the Editorial Review Committee.

Helpful hints

Share research efforts:
• Unique team endeavors
• Health-related technology
• Systems applications

Architect/client/medical teams welcomed:
• Write articles with clients
• Share candid experiences
• Describe successful partnerships

Write about environments:
• Unique design projects
• Success stories
• Learning experiences

Write about process:
• Programming and planning
• Master planning
• Automation and design

Use photographs and diagrams:
• Quality black-and-white or color photos
• Images to clarify message
• Simple diagrams

Always provide back-up sources and statistics.

Submission form:

_____
Title of paper

_____
Primary author

_____
Professional association

_____
Address

_____
City   State   ZIP

_____
Telephone

_____
E-mail

_____
Secondary author

_____
Professional association

_____
Address

_____
City   State   ZIP

_____
Telephone

_____
E-mail

Estimated length of paper: _____ words

Exhibits: Quantity _____ Type _____

I agree to submit a paper and will provide my paper by May 27, 2022

Signature _____   Date _____